F4 Conclusions and key outcomes:

Roadmap going forward for Resilient Urban Logistics

Date: Monday, May 14, 2012

Time: 16:30 - 18:00

Rooms: S17 and S18

Language: English

ICLEI contact: Emily Dowding-Smith/Alice Balbo

Organized by: Deutsche Post DHL

OBJECTIVE

In this final session, the workings from the day's sessions will be linked together and conclusions will be drawn for a road map going forward for cities to consider the role of urban logistics in strengthening their resilience. The discussion will summarize the role of resilient Urban Logistics within the following thematic pillars, which were raised throughout the day:

- current planning systems;
- sustainable transport systems and eco-mobility;
- strengthening a city's response to climate change; and
- financing

Facilitator: Martin Brown, Programme Director, City Logistics, DHL Customer Solutions & Innovation, Deutsche Post DHL, Germany

Panelists: Martin Wegner, Vice President, Solutions and Innovation, Deutsche Post DHL, Germany; and

M. Pinar Mengüç, Director of Center for Energy, Environment and Economy of Özyegin University, Istanbul.

Following this session, DHL would like to invite participants to an evening networking session:

18:00-19:00: Urban logistics networking, hosted by DHL and partners Rooms S17-18

This time is made available so that people can drop in and discuss aspects of the resilient Urban Logistics forum. It is also an opportunity for participants to approach DHL and have informal discussions about resilient Urban Logistics and to network with others who are interested.
