Resilient Cities December Update

21 December 2016

Thank you for your submissions!

Our public Call for Contributions for Resilient Cities 2017 is now closed. We have received a wide variety of submissions related to our themes from over 30 countries on all continents. Over 60% of the contributions have a Global South focus presenting good practices, lessons, innovations and examples from cities, regions, and towns. 40% of the contributions have a Global focus, sharing practical and replicable case studies and introducing new tools and solutions. The submissions will now be reviewed by our Program Committee and the outcomes communicated in February 2017.
